

Pope Continues to Discourage Soul Winning

Pope Francis again came out against soul winners in a speech to high schoolers recently: “If someone says he is a disciple of Jesus and comes to you with proselytism, he is not a disciple of Jesus.”

The pope goes on to explain his approach to “evangelization:” “The last thing I have to do is talk.” He opined that: “the Church does not grow out of proselytizing,” but rather “out of attraction” and one’s life “witness,”

This fits in with the popular statement, erroneously attributed to Francis of Assisi,

LGBT Activists Shut Down Franklin Graham Venues

Those who have relied on the homosexual activists playing nice after they got what they said they wanted, should take a look at their latest juggernaut. England has tried to accommodate their demands and now we see the futility of that strategy.

The Billy Graham Association’s Franklin Graham scheduled 8 venues in Britain for a nation-wide evangelistic campaign this spring and summer. When the LGBTX crowd learned of it they mounted a blitz of protests targeting the owners of the large stadiums who had contracted with Graham.

One by one these owners have retracted their invitations. Eight stadiums originally contracted with Graham but as of early February, 7 of the 8 had notified Graham that he was not welcome, canceling their contracts.

One city council leader, Nick Forbes, told Pride Radio, “I don’t think there’s any room for him in our city... that kind of act does not match the values of our

“Preach the Gospel at all times. When necessary, use words.” There is no chapter and verse in scripture to support this concept.

But it is a very convenient way for Satan to tamp down effective soulwinning.

The root of this may be in a change in the new Bibles. They have altered the Great Commission to read “make disciples” where the preserved King James Bible instructs to go “preach” and “teach.”

At first blush this may seem like a small difference. However, to preach or teach does not depend on a response from the receiver. It simply presents a message, in this case the good news of the gospel to anyone within earshot.

This change in the Bibles now supports the modern concept of relational witnessing where one delays presenting the good news until sufficient friendship has been developed to safely bring up the subject.

However, the Pope appears to take this one step further. His definition of proselytizing is to attempt to persuade anyone from changing his religion. This, of course, fits in with his view of ecumenism. He has, in the past, expressed his view that other religions have some ability to get you to heaven.

In the question-and-answer session after his speech he told the story of how he used to play soccer with Muslims and Jews without any thought that he should say to them: “You are Jewish; you are Muslim. Come, be converted!” He told the questioner: “You be consistent with your faith and that consistency is what will make you mature. We are not in the times of the Crusades.” Here he appeared to equate publicly preaching the word with the forced conversions carried out by Catholics during the Crusades.

Gospel tract users need to understand the subtle dampening this causes upon momentarily sharing the gospel with a stranger by handing him a tract. If we must wait for a friendship to develop before presenting the good news of the gospel, very little witnessing will happen. Our lifespan does not allow time to develop very many friendships close enough to wait for that “right moment.”

Besides limiting the instructions in the Great Commission, this also contradicts the scripture that “faith cometh by hearing and hearing by the word of God” (Rom. 10:17). A pantomime of the Christian life is not nearly as effective as a conversation that uses words. In fact, the King James occasionally uses the term “conversation” to illustrate our believer’s lifestyle, which includes speech. (Hebrews 13, 1 Peter 1, etc.).

Tract users should not be deceived by these subtle changes in the new Bibles or the philosophy of church leaders. Satan has effectively promoted the concept that tracts do not work. However, history contradicts this, because many revivals have been preceded by a wide distribution of gospel tracts.

There is no doubt today that we need a revival and there is also no doubt that widely distributing engaging, no-nonsense gospel tracts is a help in bringing people to see their need.

city.” Other city officials accused Graham of a “long record of preaching hate, bigotry, prejudice and intolerance.”

Graham penned an open letter to the LGBT community reminding them that it was not his own opinion about homosexual behavior but God’s viewpoint in the Bible. He pointed out that we are all sinners in need of Christ’s love, forgiveness and cleansing.

Another evidence of how far the UK has fallen is the treatment of Chick-fil-A. When they announced plans to open a branch in Readings, LGBT groups across the country began condemning the company.

A local homosexual group called Reading Pride said: “The chain’s ethos and moral stance goes completely against our values, and that of the UK as we are a progressive country that has legalized same-sex marriage for some years and continues to strive towards equality.”

This is the same line used by homosexual activists in the U.S. against Chick-fil-A restaurants. Their complaint is that the owners have openly supported Biblical marriage and donated money to other organizations who stand for the same.

When they make claims of being “progressive,” we have to ask: “In what direction?” Ever since Sodom and Gomorrah, every culture that has progressed toward this sin has progressed downward. Proverbs 14:34 says that “Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people.”

Reproach for this sin includes (but is not limited to) greatly increased suicide rates, new sexually transmitted diseases (STDs) rarely heard of before, men in women’s bathrooms, men competing against women in professional sports, kids who don’t know if they are male or female being injected with foreign hormones and given life-changing surgeries without parental approval, legalization of sin, increased persecution of Christians, diminished freedom of speech and religion, polarization of the populace, indoctrination and sexualization of students, death threats to Christian businesses, and increased general confusion.

No wonder God calls this an abomination! (Lev. 20:13)

So, what can we do?

Well, as Bible-believing soul winners, we must just keep spreading God’s Truth. His word is still true that all sin has a price. But it is also true that His desire is to redeem us personally and thus redeem the culture.

Unfortunately, the modern Bibles have diluted His truth in many ways couching sodomy in terms like temple prostitutes and perverted persons. Homosexual activists and even “Christian” sympathizers quote these verses to justify their sin.

Chick Publications has remained consistent with scriptures from the only true translation of the Bible in English, the one authorized by King James. To one degree or another, the others are the work of “translators” who inserted their biased interpretations into the text.

Some Good News in Our Schools

One of the most enduring and effective child evangelism efforts is the Good News Clubs sponsored by Child Evangelism Fellowship. It began in 1937 and is still reaching thousands of children each year. Playing off of the elimination of the Bible in our government schools, they organize their clubs so that the children, who get parents’ written approval, can attend on or near the school grounds.

They have successfully fought off attacks by atheists and anti-Christian school officials. One recent subterfuge that appears to have failed for lack of interest is Satan Clubs. Sponsored by the Satanic Temple, (not to be confused with the Church of Satan), they claim equal time with the Good News Clubs.

Fortunately, the Satan Clubs have not caught on in the schools for lack of interest, but that was not their real objective. The Satanic Temple is legally organized as a religion with IRS tax exemption. The ploy was to cause a reaction from parents and school boards that would panic the school officials

What if they leave your Easter service still unsaved?

Not everybody gets saved when they feel the conviction of sin. Some of those who will attend your church services this Easter will delay life's most important decision. But if people leave your church without receiving Jesus, there IS still a way to win them for Christ.

Send the gospel home with them by inserting a Chick cartoon tract inside the bulletin or church pew. You can also give one to every visitor as they leave your service.

Make sure that when they get home, and continue to think about your message, that they have a tract showing them what to do.

It could be their last opportunity!

An Amazing Coincidence —Or Is It?

By David W. Daniels

I just received a text from my friend, Daryl Coats. He described how he received his copy of the new book, *Yes You Can \(And You Should!\) Read the King James Bible*:

“Your newest book arrived the day before Victoria and I were scheduled to travel to Ft. Sill, Oklahoma, so guess who now has something to read on the airplane and in waiting areas?”

I think a lot of Daryl as a Bible scholar, and I looked forward to his critique. But a few hours later he texted me again:

“I couldn’t help chuckling as I read page 31 ... seated on an airplane ... next to Victoria ... who had the window seat!

“Our first flight departed in VERY stormy weather. As a result, extra precautions were required. The plane taxied a LONG distance (much longer than usual for flights leaving Jackson headed to Dallas), then stopped. The captain explained that we would be parked 5-10 minutes as he and the crew went through a checklist before clearance for taking off.

“See what I would’ve missed if your book had arrived on a different day?!”

Since it sounds like a one-sided joke, I have to share what’s on page 31-32 of the book, so you can enjoy the irony with me!

“The King James Bible Provides a Checklist.

“Deborah and I have always wanted to fly in planes. And now we are finally getting the opportunity. She doesn’t like airports. She doesn’t like crowds. But boy, does she love the window seat! She loves to watch as we taxi and take off. It’s amazing how she can figure out where we are, pretty much day or night, just by looking out the window. She has studied maps, she knows landmarks, and all the years of reading books and looking at pictures have paid off, big time.

“They say it’s not such a big thing anymore to get a plane in the air. At least, it’s nothing compared to the other end: landing the plane. You can do all sorts of mid-course corrections on the way. But landing can only be done one way.

“You have to know the direction and speed of the wind. You have to know about the weather, and of course, the other planes in your area. There is only one runway that your plane can land on, at any given time. Your plane must land just right.

“So, do any of you want a hit-or-miss pilot? What if he suddenly decided he didn’t need to talk to air traffic control? What if he thought he could land on a different runway, in a different direction? He wouldn’t be a pilot for long —and we might not survive the trip. At least, it wouldn’t be pleasant.

“In short, we want a very narrow-minded pilot. We want someone who does every little thing “by the book.”

“So how come people are so sloppy about the very words of God? The Creator and Sustainer of the universe has lowered Himself to give us His rules and regulations, His principles and promises, His blessings and cursings. They are all there in one holy Book. So why do we treat it as less important than the pilot’s checklist?”

So just like me, Brother Daryl’s wife was by the window seat. And just like with us, Daryl found the immense value of having a very detailed checklist... just like our King James Bible. Isn’t it wonderful that God didn’t leave us without the BIBLE: Basic Instructions Before Leaving Earth?

God bless you all, and I hope you enjoy the new book. And share it with someone who may have been told that they can’t read the King James Bible.

Good News... from p. 4

into just shutting down all the clubs and thus eliminate the Good News Clubs.

Another attack came in 2001 when one school fought them all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court to claim that their program was a violation of the separation of church and state. The Good News Club v. Milford Central School District became a landmark case. The verdict established that religious clubs could not be eliminated if secular clubs were permitted.

This is where the Satanic Temple tried their ploy that failed. The Court also opined that: "The danger that children would believe the school to be endorsing religion is no greater than the danger that they would perceive hostility towards religion if the club were excluded from this public forum."

Serious soul winners should be aware of Child Evangelism's Good News Clubs if they are wanting to operate in a school near you. They are an old, highly esteemed organization that has been very successful at introducing Children to Jesus.

They have expanded until their numbers are astounding. In a recent year, they ministered to over 25 million children face-to-face. They have expanded into every major country in the world and every U.S. state.

I was one of Jehovah's Witnesses for many years. I joined their group thinking they must be the true Christians because they were the only ones who were out witnessing!

Due to my love of the KJV and revelation on scripture from the Holy Spirit, I eventually left the JW organization with no hard feelings. However, I missed witnessing because I am called to evangelize, and no one ever wants to join me!

Your tracts are such a blessing, because even though I must witness alone, I have a wonderful gospel tool that people enjoy receiving.

Currently, they are holding clubs in over 3,000 elementary schools.

Child Evangelism Fellowship is an example how we, as Bible believers, can still engage the Devil on his own ground. It is sometimes impossible to prevent the government schools from exposing our children to Satan's lies and destroying their innocence early. Often, the only possible action is to make sure they understand the truth.

The Good News Clubs have worked out a good teaching curriculum, but Chick Publications has many tracts suitable for reaching and teaching youngsters. If you are unable to help them directly, the leadership would possibly appreciate a donation of Chick tracts like Best Friend, Charlie's Ants and others to enhance their other teaching materials.

Many people have written to Chick Publications to express their appreciation for Chick tracts that crossed their paths during their formative years. Some claimed that they considered the simple Bible teachings to have provided the foundation for their understanding of theology.

All Chick tracts are available to read in their entirety at www.chick.com. For more information, call (909) 987-0771.

I go to a busy gas station/rest stop on the nearby interstate and pass out both your English and Spanish comics. Sometimes I can start a conversation and even share a scripture, something that I am well trained to do from years with the JW's! (but now I preach the true gospel.)

Thank you so much for these beautiful, well-written and scripturally accurate gospel tracts. They help me to fulfill the calling that God has put in my heart.

Disney Does It Again

For at least a couple of generations, Mom could go off and do the dishes, trusting the kiddos to a “good” Disney movie. Then along came a tilt toward sexualization, with characters surreptitiously introducing same-sex characters. Now one survey reports that there are “gay” quotas required in most movie character roles.

This year there is a new worry for Mom: demons. A new TV show, “The Owl House” features a powerful witch and a disguised understudy. The key word here is “powerful,” since that is what witchcraft offers to vulnerable youngsters who insecurely doubt their self-worth.

But the price is high.

In a culture determined to erase all reasons for why we are here, Satan is determined to fill the void. He has fed our hunger for amusements by a variety of fantasies:

- Man’s penchant for endless distractions and curiosity for “some new thing.”
- Sex is mostly for pleasure. Any resulting procreation is a huge inconvenience requiring murder of an innocent.
- Fancy dressed “athletes” draw huge crowds who then waste vast amounts of vital energy talking endlessly about trivia while the world goes to hell all around them.

Satan scored again with Rowling’s series of witchcraft manuals clothed as engaging stories to nudge people closer to the line where curiosity about the hard stuff begins. Now, good old reliable Disney is determined to introduce the hard stuff.

Surveys tell us that Wiccan followers numbered only a few thousand in 1990. Today there are over 1.5 million who identify as Wiccan or Pagan. Satan would have us believe that there are two kinds of witches: white and black.

But those who have escaped from that realm tell us that that is just another lie: white is just a bridge to the black on the highway to hell. The thirst for power always demands more.

At midnight last Halloween, witches banded together to cast a “binding” spell on the U.S. president for his “malignant works” that are “harming America” in their twisted view. They are frequently organizing these spells on social media pages against him.

One ex-witch is going public against the new Disney cartoon. Jenny Weaver told CBN News: “I’m telling you it was one of darkest times of my life. That realm is very real, just like the Kingdom of God and the Holy Ghost is real, so is that realm. And when you get in that realm and you open that door, the enemy wants to take you out.”

Weaver grew up in a dysfunctional family and in her depression began cutting herself. She became fascinated with a movie called The Craft where four high school witches had power and control. This introduced her to the lie that that kind of power was the way out of her problems.

She became a practicing witch, but she remembers hearing voices that said, “Just kill yourself. Just go away. It would be better off if you would just die.” She also descended into drug addiction and lesbianism.

Weaver recalls: “I was smoking meth-amphetamines in dope houses, sleeping in people’s sheds, being tore up by bugs all day long. And so, I remember just crying out to God. I cried out to the top of my lungs, I said ‘God Help Me!’”

God was listening and through His response she is now a popular worship leader and author, able to speak into young lives who are being tempted by Satan’s false promise of power.

It is impossible to counter every temptation that the Devil throws out without the spiritual armor that Paul talks about in Ephesians 6. The belt of Truth is the center piece of that armor, and Truth is something we are commissioned to share.

In our busyness, we usually only have about 3 seconds contact with someone in the world. But that is enough time to give them the Good News in an engaging gospel tract. What’s at stake is their eternity—and our faithfulness to the Great Commission.

Missions Fund Report

Thanks to your giving, missionaries world-wide continue to send thanks for what these tracts are doing for their ministries. Here are just a few recent comments:

Tim Urling's church members gather around a shipment of Chick tracts before hitting the streets.

Missionary Tim Urling knows that he can't do the job alone. He serves in Juarez, Mexico, a city of 3 million people; many more than he can ever reach. So he focuses on training local believers to reach them. He has seven students training to serve, as well as three men who are ready now to start new churches. Even that is not enough.

What better training is there than taking local churches into the streets with Chick tracts to witness and preach the Gospel? Through your giving, the Mission Fund was able to provide them with 80,000 Chick tracts. In the picture above, you can see his team with some of the 26,000 Chick tracts they put into people's hands in just one of their 2-hour witnessing periods.

Urling writes: "There were several professions of faith including one man named Rudy who had a collection of the 8 different titles we distributed. He had lived in the US for 40 years and had recently been deported. He was very open and interested. He said the "green tract" (The Big Spender) was a reflection of his life. He prayed to accept Christ as his savior and was directed to a local church for follow-up." Many of the 60 church members who participated in this outreach had a revival of sorts in their hearts and were filled with desire to be more dedicated in soul-winning.

See more about his work here: <https://www.2everycreature.com/chick-tract-campaign-of-january-2020/>

Italy - Christopher War wrote: "I have had so many Italians thank me for Chick tracts and then I watch them from a distance start reading them all the way through. I have given them to people on trains and planes and boats and of course walking out on soul winning. I have seen God do amazing things through the Chick Tracts more so than any other tracts I pass out."

India - Missionary Kathy Smith travels through many rural areas in India preaching the Gospel, and providing VBS for 12,000 children. Your giving recently provided her teams with more than 100,000 Chick tracts in Hindi, Tamil, Malayalam, Telugu and Oriya languages. She shared these reports from workers:

"Village people easily understand about Jesus and his birth, death, resurrection and salvation and lots of people are accepting Jesus as their Savior through these tracts."

A village pastor writes: "Seven people accepted the Lord Jesus and are coming to my church after reading the Chick tracts."

Be Ye Kind

By David W. Daniels

I don't do a lot of public speaking. I do not debate. But I have conversations every day on Facebook. People from all over the world ask questions about all sorts of topics. Here's a glimpse of how I attempt to speak kindly to everyone. Even if what we say can be rather hard for a non-Christian to hear, we can be kind in the way we present the truth, while being bold for the gospel.

Ephesians 4:31-32: Let all bitterness, and wrath, and anger, and clamour, and evil speaking, be put away from you, with all malice: And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you.

With that in mind, take a look at just one question from a Catholic we'll call Val.

Val: Do you believe that a Catholic can be saved?

David: A person can be saved who believes in the shed blood of the Son of God, the Lord Jesus with nothing else added. If he or she is in a building full of people who do not believe, that person is still saved. But if a person believes Catholic doctrine and relies on the sacraments and rituals to "becoming saved," as written in Catholicism's Catechism or dogma or canons and decrees, that person is not saved.

If a person has been in that system and then comes to simple faith in the shed blood of the Son of God, the Lord Jesus Christ, that person has been saved out of whatever his or her religion, whether Catholicism, Mormonism, JW, etc. The next thing to do when the Lord opens the door is to leave and grow in faith.

Revelation 18:4: And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues.

2 Corinthians 6:16-18: And what agreement hath the temple of God with idols? for ye are the temple of the living God; as God hath said, I will dwell in them, and walk in them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people. 17. Wherefore come out from among them, and be ye separate, saith the Lord, and touch not the unclean thing; and I will receive you, ...

Val: But what if that person is unaware?

David: Unaware of what? People are not accidentally saved. It is very intentional.

Val: What if there is a sincere person who was raised a Catholic?

David: Sincerity doesn't save a person. If a person sincerely seeks God, the Lord can lead him to the gospel. But it is the only way to be saved.

Acts 4:12: Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

John 14:6: Jesus saith unto him, I am the way, the truth, and the life: no man cometh unto the Father, but by me.

Corinthians 3:11: For other foundation can no man lay than that is laid, which is Jesus Christ.

God heard Cornelius and led him to the means to hear the gospel and be saved in Acts 10:4-6.

See also: 2 John 9, Matthew 1:21, John 3:36, 1 John 5:11-12.

Val: You give so much thought to even such random questions that I ask.

David: I never want to be flippant.

Val: You provide detailed scripture verses and stuff when most would not.

David: I'm not aware of what others would do. I can only answer for myself.

God bless you all! - David

Venezuela - Missionary Jerry Alford reports: "Your tracts are our second tool we use to start churches after the Bible."

Colombia - Getting tracts to Missionary Don Cross in Colombia was really difficult, but these Colombian kids are sure glad they got through!

Philippines - The demand for life-changing literature is still growing here. You provided more than 200,000 Chick tracts to workers in the Philippines just since the last newsletter. Missionary Bruce Hunsaker has organized outreaches in at least 14 churches. He shows them how to preach and pass out tracts on the streets. See the photo below of kids at an open market avidly reading the Chick tracts he gave them. Thank you for giving ammunition to these missionaries!

Thailand - Mike and Jody Cecil (BBMI) report that Chick tracts are well received in Thailand. Since many people world-wide want their children to learn English (maybe a better chance for a job) Jody volunteers to teach English at one of the local schools. While it is very difficult to get tracts into Burma (Myanmar) at this time, some of the Burmese children who are in Thailand have taken to walking her to the car as she leaves at the end of class. Mike says, "A few times, as she opened the car door, they noticed the gospel tracts in the pocket on the side panel of the door. Several of them grabbed them, and if they saw they were written in Burmese, they took them and ran. Which was ok!"

Yes, it is okay. Those tracts went home to families who might never hear of Jesus any other way. May God bring conviction and salvation to their hearts!

Kenya - Missionary Joetta Smith writes: "A pastor came here from 30 km today because he read a tract! He said because of the tract he has left the Catholic church!! He took a box of tracts with him and said he will be back for the meeting next Monday with ten of his colleagues! Another pastor texted me from another far away area to say he is planning to visit us here also...God seems to be opening the flood gates here!"

Philippines - Missionary Mike Carey is also rapidly expanding his outreach with tracts. He gets permission to get them into the Philippine schools, where they will influence young minds for Jesus. He is also helping numerous small churches reach their communities. He shared this picture with us. We are currently shipping 30,000 tracts a month for Mike and his workers.

Everything STOPS when Chick tracts are passed out!

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

There's a reason the pope is discouraging soulwinning.

It works.

Chick tracts have been proving his view wrong for 59 years. Gospel tracts reach into the hearts and minds of precious souls. They engage the reader, present the gospel, and lead to a decision. Many are Christians today because someone cared enough to give them a tract and talk to them about Jesus.

I'm sure the pope would be ecstatic if we all stopped passing out tracts tomorrow. Then half of the Devil's work of subverting the world would be done. Do we want to make it easy for the Devil?

Remember: Satan never stops proselytizing. The only one to stop working would be you.

You might be the only representative of Christ and His gospel that they have. The tract you give them or leave for them could change their lives, as it did mine.

So, if the pope is telling you to "life witness" and not directly win souls, are you going to obey him or the Lord?

"Go ye therefore, and teach all nations..." —Matthew 28:19

"And he [Jesus] said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature." —Mark 16:15

I think you know which voice to follow.

In Christ Jesus, and for His service,
