Catholic Sexual Abuse Claims Exceed $1.5 Billion

In December of last year, the Archdiocese of Los Angeles, California, settled 45 cases of sexual abuse by its priests for a total of $40 million. It still faces another 485 sex abuse cases that will likely cost hundreds of millions of dollars. The archdiocese is preparing to sell off some of its estimated $4 billion worth of real estate to pay the claims. (For more information on the vast wealth of the Roman Catholic Church, see chapter 10 of Smokescreens, published by Chick Publications.)

A 2004 report by the U.S. Catholic Church said that 10,667 people have accused 4,392 priests with sexual abuse. Costs to settle cases currently exceed $1.5 billion with thousands of cases yet pending.

Court: Women's Restroom Okay for 'Transgendered' Men

The sodomite indoctrination in our schools and work places is having some "unintended consequences." A Pennsylvania court has "opened the door for men, who believe they are women, to come to work in a dress and use the women's restroom and shower facilities," according to The Wanderer, a conservative Catholic weekly.

In a Fresno, California high school, a female "transgender" student ran for prom king and lost, but a male "trans" ran for prom queen and won. He is also on the cheerleader squad and stands 6 foot 4 inches in his high heels.

San Francisco and Berkeley, California have included sex-change surgery in the list of benefits covered by their employee medical plans. San Francisco also has an elected transgender as president of the police commission. He/She has no prior police experience but is CEO of a multi-million dollar sex toy company.

Many Christian leaders are now advising

Life is getting hard for evolutionists. All their "proofs" keep vanishing!

Many people reject God because of a few classic "proofs" of evolution found in school textbooks.

This book shows how one after another of these convincing "proofs" have been proven untrue.

Lawsuit Opens Prison System to Bible Literature

The California prison system has agreed to settle a lawsuit brought by a prison ministry that had been stopped from sending Bible study materials to inmates who requested them. The Pacific Justice Institute brought the suit after the state prison at Corcoran refused to deliver the literature.

Dale Drozd, federal magistrate judge in Sacramento wrote a 33 page opinion finding that the prison system policy was inconsistent with the First Amendment free exercise of religion clause and the more recent federal Religious Land Use and Institutionalized Persons Act.

The Act was made law in 2000 to protect churches from unfair zoning laws and at the same time addressed the question of prisoner rights. Prison chaplains and other soul winners ministering in the prisons have been frustrated for years trying to get the gospel past prison regulations into the hands of the prisoners.

Roman Catholic priests maneuver into the position of head chaplain at a given institution and often block any literature that speaks the truth about the cults. Prison officials often place tight restrictions on anything controversial that might cause differences of opinion in the inmates. They fail to recognize that only the Truth of the gospel has the power to change men's lives so they will not need incarceration. A paid chaplain in New York was recently suspended for giving tracts to inmates that told the truth about Islam. Since then, a Muslim Imam (priest) has been hired there.

Butterfly Gives Darwin an ‘Absolute Breakdown’

By Thomas Heinze

Darwin felt that natural selection, working by just slight modifications, had formed all the animals and all of their organs. He wrote: “If it could be demonstrated that any complex organ existed which could not possibly have been formed by numerous, successive, slight modifications, my theory would absolutely break down.”

Here’s an “absolute break down” surprise for him! Butterflies are not transformed by successive slight modifications from caterpillars, or from any evolutionary ancestor. Neither are any of their complex organs.

When a butterfly egg hatches, a caterpillar steps out, eats, grows, and then builds a little house around itself where it passes into the pupal stage. Inside the leather-like shell of the pupa, or larva, the caterpillar dissolves. I don’t mean he dissolves in tears, or has a squishy feeling. His eyes, legs, intestines, and bristly fuzz, everything that distinguished him as a caterpillar, melts down to form a thick liquid. Everything except his heart becomes homogenized goo.

Darwin said that if any complex organ existed which could not possibly have been formed by numerous, successive, slight modifications, his theory would absolutely break down. Compare the organs that crawled in to become the pupa with those of the butterfly that flew out in the chart below.

All these butterfly organs formed from goo! None formed from slight modifications to previous organs! Darwin struck out!

Darwin thought natural selection had lifted all plants and animals up from a single cell by eliminating the less fit and keeping the more fit alive. What is the least fit substance you can think of? Thick liquid? Well, even if you can think of something less fit than thick liquid, you know that liquid goo has no selective advantage over a voracious caterpillar crawling efficiently through the brush avoiding predators with protective coloration and a covering of disgusting stiff fuzz!

Darwin was right! His theory absolutely breaks down, crushed under the weight of one of God’s lightest creatures: the butterfly!

In author Thomas Heinze’s books, The Vanishing Proofs of Evolution, In the Beginning—Soup? and How Life Began, you will find other examples of evolution’s “breakdowns” that you can use in witnessing to those who believe in evolution’s “strong delusion.” (See 2 Thess. 2:11-12.)

Wiccans Suing Government Over Tombstones

The U.S. Department of Veterans Affairs has caved in and agreed to include the Wiccan five-pointed star in the list of accepted symbols being used on Department-issued grave markers. Wiccan priestess Selena Fox led the campaign to get the symbol onto the list, so soldiers who are killed in battle can have it on their tombstones. Fox operates a 200-acre Circle Sanctuary "nature center" in the woods 30 miles west of Madison, Wisconsin.

Two Vietnam and Korean war veterans are buried at the Circle Sanctuary along side of a memorial to another soldier killed in Iraq. Fox claims a constitutional right to have Wicca fully recognized. "It's discrimination. There's no other explanation I can think of."

Since 1978 the Army Chaplain handbook has listed ways to accommodate Wiccans. There are about 1800 active-duty service men who claim it as their religion. Nationwide, Wiccan membership has grown from about 40,000 in the late 1970s to an estimated 400,000 today. Hard numbers are difficult to obtain since many do not want to admit the belief for fear of being accused of worshipping the devil.

Wiccans resist the accusation, claiming they only deal in "white" witchcraft and strictly adhere to their golden rule: "An it harm none, do what ye will." But William Schnoebelen, author of Wicca, Satan's Little White Lie, found it hard to adhere to the rule. He and his "priestess" devoted

Witnessing Tips from a Veteran

Are you afraid to approach a stranger and hand them a tract? Soul winner Tim Berends has spent years developing techniques that get people to accept them. He is currently working the streets and casinos of Las Vegas. He says, "The tract, How To Get Rich is perfect for the casinos. Most people are there out of greed."

At a line of people waiting to cash a check, Tim will start down the line of two or three dozen people, handing each a tract. "If someone refuses, immediately the devil will try to intimidate me so I will not finish the line," he says. "But if two refuse out of forty or fifty, that's pretty good odds."

"If Tim sees someone wearing a green shirt, he will say, "Everyone wearing green today gets a free one of these," and hand them a tract. To someone with a baseball cap with Maui on it he says, "Everyone who loves Maui gets a free one of these." When they hear the word "free"

it makes it special and they seldom refuse.

To someone who is not particularly attractive, he says, "I saved one of these for you." Tim is six foot six and when he sees someone over six feet tall he says, "Everyone who is over six feet tall gets a free one of these, today."

Tim relies on the Lord to prompt him. One day he was crossing a parking lot and saw an expensive car with the windows tinted. He felt led to knock on the window. Someone inside rolled down the window and Tim said, "Here's some very important reading," and handed him a tract. "I went on into the store and when I came out this same car honked at me. I thought, 'Oh, no! He's offended. He may shoot me.'"

He went, anyway, and the man in the car waved the tract and demanded, "What's this all about?" Tim said, "It just points out that we are all sinners and deserve hell, but Jesus came to keep us from going to hell." This opened a con-ing parents to abandon the government schools and home school their children or place them in a good church school. But these safe havens are under attack. State and federal legislators are pushing laws to eliminate parental rights to choose who teaches our children.

Courts have already declared that parents who send their children to government schools have no control over what they are being taught. (See March-April 2006 Battle Cry or visit www.chick.com/bc/2006/parentrights.asp on the chick.com web site.) Proverbs 14:34 says: "Righteousness exalteth a nation: but sin is a reproach to any people." The sodomite steamroller loose in our land is pledged to squash anyone who does not approve of their perversion, especially anyone who quotes God's opinion from the Bible.

Our only defense, and the only hope for America, is a revival of Bible-based morality. For that to happen, the rebel hearts must be changed, one at a time.

Soul winners, we need to step up our witnessing. We need to counter the lies of Satan with Gospel Truth. If we haven't time to speak to someone about the Lord, we can always give him a tract, or leave one where someone will find it.

Many national leaders are dedicated to destroying our religious freedom. Our only defense is changing the hearts at the grass roots.

5 LIES SATAN TELLS TEENS

- Immoral sex won't hurt you
- Suicide will end your problems
- Drugs are a great escape from reality
- No one should have authority over you
- Satanism is a fun way to get power

Six years of working with troubled teens showed Rick Jones that Satan uses the same basic plan to destroy all young people. That plan is clearly described in this hard-hitting book, which also shows that Jesus is the only way out. Give it to teens that you love to get them off the stairway to hell.

Catholic authorities have largely succeeded in labeling the offending priests as pedophiles. However, most of the victims have not been young children, but boys in their mid to late teens.

For years before the scandal broke in the media, stories would surface from time to time of a homosexual subculture in the Roman Catholic priesthood and seminaries. A study of the patterns of male homosexual activity indicates that their favored target is the freshness of teen boys. And they are less likely to be carrying AIDS or other sexually transmitted diseases (STDs). Thus it appears that the sexual abuse epidemic in the Catholic priesthood is more about homosexuality than pedophilia.

Jesus said of the Pharisees that they had made the word of God of none effect by their tradition. (See Matt. 15.) This accusation also seems to stick on Roman Catholicism. The word of God stipulates that leadership in the church should be given to men who are "husband of one wife." The Bible also says that in the last days there would be a spirit of anti-Christ that would forbid marriage. (See 1 Timothy 4.) Thus the popes, also, have made the word of God of none effect by their traditions.

By forbidding their priests to marry, the Vatican has created an impossible environment of temptation for the priests. This virtually shoves them toward homosexual behavior. The prohibition against marriage seems primarily intended to prevent them from having offspring with legal rights to the property of the Catholic church, so they will seek sexual activity that does not produce children.

Most of the evangelical world has accepted the lie that Roman Catholicism is "just another denomination with a different worship tradition." Although, when cornered, a Roman Catholic will claim they believe the Bible and salvation through the blood of Jesus. But when you look at their rituals and dogma, most of their attention goes to Mary and their "Jesus" is perpetually resacrificed as a wafer god that they eat in their Mass. They are forbidden to believe that they can know that they have eternal life. These traditions cancel the clear teachings of Scripture making them "of none effect."

Soul winners, we must not be deceived by those who claim that Roman Catholics are saved and don't need us to witness to them. These precious souls are in bondage to a prostitute "church," the whore of Babylon of Revelation 17 and 18. They need to know the freedom of the truth of salvation by faith alone and that they must follow the instruction in Revelation 18:4 to "come out of her..."

versation that led to the man accepting Christ as Saviour.

“But I almost didn’t go to him because I was fearful,” Tim says. “But Proverbs 29:25 says, ‘the fear of man bringeth a snare: but whoso putteth his trust in the LORD shall be safe.’ And besides, Satan can’t threaten a Christian with heaven. What have we got to lose if we get killed?”

One morning, Tim was out walking in a ghetto area and saw a group of young men. In fear, he considered turning around, or walking on the other side of the street. Putting fear aside, he walk directly up to them and said in a loud voice, “Do you fellows know Jesus Christ as your personal Lord and Saviour?” This started a conversation that led to two of them accepting Christ.

Tim says that fear is Satan’s greatest tool to discourage the soul winner. But 2 Timothy 1:7 says, “God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind.” With a little creativity in our approach, we can get the gospel into the hands of many more people who need Jesus in their lives.

Well-Known Christian Author Reverses Position on Rome

A best-selling author (who shall remain nameless) was challenged regarding a book he had written. It stated that Rome was indeed the Whore of Babylon prophesied in the book of Revelation, chapters 17 – 18. He had based his book largely on The Two Babylons by Alexander Hislop, who penned his book between the years 1853 and 1858, before the dawn of modern archaeology. He was told that Hislop had used shoddy research and jumped to unwarranted conclusions. He was presented a different option: that Catholicism was indeed unscriptural in places, but the church was still Christian.

This well-known author could not answer the skeptic’s questions. And so he threw out the baby with the bathwater – and his own book along with it. But this gray-headed man should have known better. Just because he didn’t know the answer, didn’t mean there wasn’t one!

Is there a way to find out whether Hislop was right? Is the Roman religion indeed the Whore of Babylon prophesied by scripture? And can we find out, without getting bogged-down in scholarly research articles?

Author David W. Daniels’ new book, Babylon Religion has the answer. Many people have gotten stuck in the way most authors write about this important topic. But Babylon Religion is written as a story. And not a dull one, either! It is written simply, and filled with Jack Chick’s comic drawings, both historically accurate and fun to read.

But if you want the “meat,” it’s also there: Appendix A documents the claims of the book, using full quotations of authoritative research. Read it for the fun story. Learn from the documented research. The Catholic system is indeed the Whore of Babylon that Jesus warned us to flee from!

You don’t have to make the mistake this well-known Christian author did. Read Babylon Religion for yourself. Enjoy the story. Then check out the research. Your unsaved Catholic friends will be glad you did.

Over a century ago, Alexander Hislop wrote The Two Babylons, which became a Christian classic. He shows from history that Roman Catholicism is really a repackaged religion from ancient Babylon.

The book is still in print, but is heavy, uncomfortable reading for most people.

Researcher David W. Daniels has taken all this information, added even more, and organized it all into an easy-to-read story format.

Throw in captivating illustrations by Jack Chick, and now everyone can easily see how an ancient Babylonian goddess became the Virgin Mary of Catholicism.

"Many folks have Hislop's wonderful classic, The Two Babylons, on their shelves at home but have never read it... people like me. Now, thanks to David W. Daniels' new book, this important information comes to life with pictures and an abbreviated text. Now the 'common plowboy' can read and be shocked by its powerful and timeless message. Babylon Religion is a must for every pastor's library and Christian's home. It's time the proverbial frog in the pot starts realizing it's getting hotter and starts standing for righteousness and not be swayed by the fear of man any longer."

CHICK MAIL BAG

Just recently we had some major flooding in New Jersey causing many to leave their homes. The college I work for was a shelter for the flood victims. Close to 99% of the people were Spanish and were about 300-350 staying in our gym. I had close to 500 Spanish Chick tracts that I had ordered and put them on a table for the people to read. It only took about 2 hours and every tract was taken and not one was found on the ground or ended in the trash. I feel it was a great way to reach so many that had nothing else to do while waiting to be able to return to their homes.

My Spanish Chick Tract ministry is growing and I am so grateful to you for making it possible. — Reinhold, N.J.

Recently I stopped at a sub shop for lunch and left a copy of Somebody Loves Me in my booth. On my way out to the car a worker called me back to the store, waving the tract in her hand. She asked me if it was mine and I told her that I had left it in there in order to share the good news of Jesus. Tears welled up in her eyes as she confessed to having thoughts of suicide. I motioned her to sit down and she prayed there with me to dedicate her life to Christ! — N. H., FL

In 1975 while on a naval ship for six months I was first introduced to Chick tracts. A faithful soul kept leaving them around the ship. Before long our compartment had a stock of different titles which were kept on the table. Being at sea the men, including myself, used to read them over and over again. I made a weak commitment to the Lord but left for the world. When working at a factory in the early 80's, again I ran into your tracts. I felt the call of God and have been with Jesus ever since. I now use Chick comics to reach the lost.

How NOT to Witness to a Muslim

By David W. Daniels

As a soul winner, you suddenly find a need to witness to a Muslim. So you try to study up on Islam and soon you find that popular Christian writers say these things about Islam:

- Allah is the Arabic name for God
- Muhammad was a well-meaning man who sought to oppose evil and idolatry in his day
- We should use the Qur'an wherever it agrees with the Bible

So you read up in the Qur'an, and bookmark a number of verses and you set out to talk to a Muslim.

"Did you know that the Qur'an says Jesus is divine?" you ask.

"Really? Show me," he responds.

You refer to Sura Al-Imran 3:49 where it talks about Jesus making birds out of clay and breathing life into them and how He healed the blind and lepers and raised the dead.

"To do this He must be divine," you say.

"Ahh," counters your Muslim friend, "but the Qur'an also says in Sura Al-Mu'minum 23:91, 'No son did Allah beget.'" And he shows you 12 other verses that say Allah has no son.

"Besides," he adds, "the Qur'an is very clear: Jesus is a created being. Sura Al-Imran 3:59 says, 'The similitude of Jesus before Allah is as that of Adam; He created him from dust, then said to him: 'Be'. And he was.' If Jesus is created, then he cannot be God."

You remain hopeful and try again, Qur'an happily in hand.

"We should be able to talk as brothers.

After all, we are 'People of the Book' and your own Qur'an says we are saved." you say.

"Do you think so? Show me," he replies.

You go to Sura Al-Imran 3:114 that says, "They believe in Allah and the Last Day; they enjoin what is right, and forbid what is wrong; and they hasten (in emulation) in (all) good works: They are in the ranks of the righteous." I believe in Allah (the Arabic name for God, right?) and the Last Day. I believe in doing what is right. So I, as a Christian, am also "in the ranks of the righteous."

The Muslim smiles, takes your Qur'an and says, "Oh, but you do not understand.

Look here. Just two verses later it says,

"Those who reject Faith... will be companions of the Fire, dwelling therein (for ever)." So if you reject the faith of Islam, you will dwell in fire forever. You are not my brother unless you submit to Allah and to the religion of Islam."

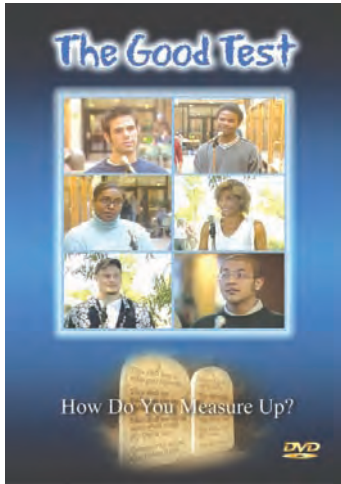

Discussion over.

I am a self employed cabinetmaker. I have found a very unique way of getting the gospel out to people who ask me, “Do you have a business card?” Boy, do I! When I receive an order of Chick tracts, the first thing I do is take my business card and staple it to the outside of the back cover! Then, when someone asks for a card they also get the Gospel of The Lord Jesus Christ, far more important than any cabinets they’ll get from me. I hope you can use this idea for other self-employed Christians. In the love and spirit of The Lord Jesus Christ,

I absolutely love your tracts. I leave them on pay phones, on mall benches, in shirt and pants pockets in clothing stores (racks). Another place is in the “form” slot in banking cash machines. Another is placing them in magazines at the grocery store. Or, in tract racks in churches that usually handle regular tracts only. Doctor’s offices magazines, Jiffy Lube magazine racks, highway bathrooms, just everywhere there are people in need of Christ. With checks I mail to pay bills. In the back end of pick up trucks in parking lots. In the summer time, some people leave car windows cracked open, great “mail” slot for your tracts.... Thanks for your efforts in this area... over 15 years to following that motto. They led their coven in casting only good spells for love, harmony and prosperity for their members.

But they ran into a dilemma when a member wanted a death spell on a wayward spouse to obtain custody of the children. Were they going to do evil for a good result? Their bland "golden rule" was not adequate for real life problems.

In further pursuit of more power and wisdom, they were drawn into the darker realms. Rituals became more and more bizarre until they were drinking each other's blood in vampirism. Schnoebelen remembers driving around in the wee hours of the morning hoping to find a lone female walking so he could satisfy his blood lust.

"Wicca is one of the more seductive deceptions that Satan has come up with," Schnoebelen writes. "It claims to be a 'back to nature' religion which worships the sky and earth.... Yet, for all its charm and nostalgic fantasy, Wicca drew me into the deepest quagmire of satanic evil imaginable."

A crisis came when he ordered a satanic bible from the church of Satan. When his check cleared the bank, a teller saw it and wrote a note in it: "I am praying for you in Jesus name." Schnoebelen writes: "Within days, things began to happen. I lost my job, my wife got sick, I got sick, and my satanic mentor, so powerful and self-assured, got in a serious truck accident.... I was effectively cut off from all my powerful new contacts."

After five more years of wandering through Masonry and Mormonism, he met the Jesus that the teller knew. "I learned that Wicca is a sweet, beguiling, but dangerous fantasy," writes Schnoebelen. In his book he demonstrates how truly dangerous it is.

Schnoebelen's book on Wicca and another one on Masonry are available from Chick Publications.

as the authority, you are rejecting the Bible as the sole authority. The only true way to witness with the Qur'an is to show its contradictions! Mohammad Al Ghazoli's new book, Christ, Muhammad & I is a good place to find them. Show them how contradictory their book from Allah is. Then show them the amazing consistency and clarity there is in the Bible. Place the authority where it belongs —with Christ and His Holy words in the King James Bible. The Muslim will tell you: "My Qur'an tells me, in Sura Al-Baqara 2:75, that your Bible has been perverted! Why should I read it?"

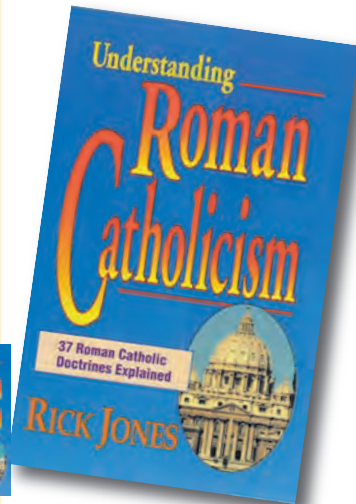

He is surprised when you agree with him: "Yes, it has! Can you imagine God giving so powerful a book and the devil and his people not trying to pervert it? But we have rejected the corrupt Bibles, and accepted the one that is not changed! Want to see what the unchanged Bible says?" Now you have a way to witness from God's word. Don't settle for man's or the Devil's words, when your true authority is the scriptures, the words of God. Who knows? By honoring God and His words, maybe you can bring salvation to this precious person deceived by Allah.

A message from Jack Chick

Dear Ones in Christ:

Today I watched a video documentary entitled, "Deliver Us from Evil." I was stunned by the time it ended. I was sick, angry, sad and so sorry for those precious, faithful Roman Catholics who believe with all their hearts that Rome, the pope, the eucharist and the Virgin Mary will guide them hopefully into heaven eventually. I saw the rage that swept over the shattered father when he realized that a visiting priest had violated his 5-year-old daughter while a guest at his house. It was devastating.

Back when Dr. Alberto Rivera was alive and worked with me on our "Alberto" series (Crusader comic books), he told me of the rampant homosexuality within the priesthood. I made reference to this and was soundly condemned by my brethren. Alberto also told me that one of his assignments as a Jesuit priest was to investigate "working priests." These were priests assigned to work in large factories to assist in spiritual guidance. On one occasion he was sent with a fellow Jesuit to Krakow, Poland and he was shocked to see the way the workers shamefully treated the priest. They threw their oily rags at him and made ugly comments. When Alberto confronted the workers for their disrespectful actions, he was told they hated him because they "couldn't keep him away from our little boys!" Alberto said that the priest's name was Wojtyla. He later became pope! I was speechless! Is it any wonder that this pope protected Cardinal Law and others involved in their sex scandal?

Beloved, the Bible is so right calling that institution "The Great Whore" in Revelation 17 & 18. We've tried our best to reach precious Roman Catholics, but we have had much resistance by many brethren who are Evangelicals, who have ignorantly embraced lost Roman Catholics as their brothers and sisters. This ecumenical movement makes it very hard to reach them for Christ.

Many have tried to discredit Alberto's testimony, forcing Christian bookstores to stop selling The Alberto Series. But that has not stopped its power. We receive testimonies all the time from precious Roman Catholics who have gotten saved and come out of that bondage. Many would first get mad claiming that Alberto was attacking their religion. Then the Holy Spirit would open their eyes and draw them to the truth.

If you to watch "Deliver Us from Evil," you'll see that what we printed was true. Hand out tracts like Why is Mary Crying?, Death Cookie, Last Rites and Are Roman Catholics Christians? Back them up with

The Alberto Comics. Do your best to win precious Roman Catholics, to open their eyes and leave that wicked system, and come to a saving knowledge of our Lord Jesus Christ.

In His love,
