

Religious Freedom Tightening World Wide

The Pew Research Center reports that restrictions on religion in 2015 were rated “high” or “very high” in 40% of the countries in the world, up from 34% in 2014. Of course, Muslim countries have been the most restrictive for many years, but the Western nations that have been the most open are now reconsidering their stance.

The major factor is the shifting of populations from the Muslim countries who are bringing with them violent tendencies against other religions. The flood of immigrants into Europe from the Middle East has taken advantage of the open freedoms to push their Islamic hostility to all other beliefs.

This is causing a cultural backlash pushing for government policies to reduce the hostility. But government action is often blunt—with unintended consequences. This is evident in several nations. Bible-believing missionaries have faced a much more difficult time getting into Russia beginning last year.

Terrorist attacks prompted the Russian government to raise the barrier against entry into the country. Instead of restricting entry to

God’s Favorites: Israel —and Babies

In the Bible, two things are close to God’s heart: His chosen people, Israel and babies. It is heartening that America is refreshing its commitment to Israel. But, it is horrifying in God’s eyes what we are doing to babies, born and unborn.

The U.S. President’s speech for Holocaust Remembrance Day contained new, strong support for the Jewish people. He deplored the deaths of the six million in the Holocaust: “They were murdered by an evil that words cannot describe, and that the human heart cannot bear.”

He lauded the people of Israel for their perseverance: “Today, only decades

Can Dead Manuscripts Make a Live Bible?

By David W. Daniels

A brother in Christ asked me a simple question. Have I ever seen anyone treating the Sinaiticus and Vaticanus as if they were alive?

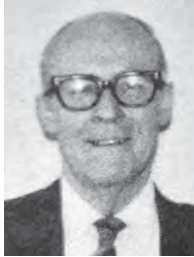

So, what do we mean, "alive?" Let me share a few scriptures.

Hebrews 4:12 "For the word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any twoedged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discernor of the thoughts and intents of the heart."

"Quick" means "alive." God's words are quick and powerful, not dead and powerless. (See also Isaiah 55:11 and Jeremiah 23:29.)

But here is what my professors said at Fuller Seminary, considered one of the most conservative seminaries in the country when I went there from 1984-87.

This is Dan Fuller, son of the founder, Charles Fuller. He taught Unity of the Bible and said that after the fall of man in Genesis 3, God didn't talk in person to His creation anymore. But God was right there talking with Cain in the very next chapter, Genesis 4! Dr. Fuller never changed his notes to match the Bible. His mind was made up.

This is Paul Jewett. He taught us that Adam didn't find a companion until he looked and saw one of the apes. He said, and I quote, "That one over there. I think it's something in the eyes." So Dr. Jewett, this champion of women as pastors, taught that the first woman was literally an ape.

This is Dr. Ralph P. Martin. He changed the meaning of a couple of Greek words in Acts 1, that made it look like Luke and Acts were written in the 2nd century, contradicting the Bible, which says Luke was an eyewitness.

This is Dr. Lewis B. Smedes. He liked to tear down the faith of each class member in the 10 Commandments like a confrontational talk-show host. He'd make up tear-jerking scenarios, where breaking a commandment seemed like the only thing you could do to solve the problem he made up. And when someone finally broke down, he would say, "So you don't really believe in that commandment, do you?" He took pleasure in tearing people's faith into shreds.

Dr. Bob Schaper, my homiletics professor, said: "If we had a Polaroid camera, we would not have seen God forming man of the dust of the ground and breathing into his nostrils the breath of life. If we had a Polaroid cam-

Satan's Plan for Doubt

When Eve had her first chat with the Devil, he laid out his plan: "Yea, hath God said?" And doubt has been his main objective for all the succeeding centuries.

This temptation has plagued man ever since. Right off, Cain doubted that God meant what He said and thought he knew better than God what to sacrifice. Noah's neighbors had strayed so far into doubt that they scoffed at God's promise of a fatal flood. Lot's relatives in Sodom reacted the same.

The whole purpose of Hebrews 11 is to chronicle the history of faith, the opposite of doubt. When we trace today's culture of doubt it leads to a monstrous deception literally right under our noses. The church has failed to notice a modern plot against God's words.

Earliest recorded history describes how God devised to have His words written down. In the innermost sanctum of the tabernacle where God placed His name was a box with His law inside. And He guaranteed accurate copies were preserved during all the wars of Israel's history.

Even today, few honest historians dispute the purity of modern copies of the Old Testament scriptures.

So, Satan focused his bazooka of doubt on the New Testament writings. His first ploy was to burn all the Bibles in the world and kill as many believers as possible in the process. God's counter attack was the invention of the printing press.

So, did Satan capitulate? Not his style! But do we know what his plan B was? Unfortunately he has been hugely successful in executing it literally right under our noses in the modern Bibles almost universally adopted by the church.

When you come to trust someone, you

Rowdy Crowd in England Gets Preachers Arrested

Consequences of the spreading belief that there are many ways to God is evident in the arrest of a couple of street preachers in England. Americans Michael Stockwell and Michael Overd were with a group street preaching in Bristol, England.

As is common in such public witnessing, they preached against sin such as homosexuality, the deception of false religions, as well as quoting John 14:6 where Jesus says that "...no man cometh unto the Father, but by me." The men were arrested, tried, and ordered to pay a $2500 fine for "...violating the Crime and Disorder Act, which prohibits speech or behavior causing 'intentional harassment, alarm or distress' that is 'racially or religiously aggravated.'"

The response of one of the prosecutors to this scripture is becoming more common, showing how the one-religion world view is gaining acceptance. "To say to someone that Jesus is the only way to God is not a matter of truth. To the extent that they are saying that the only way to God is through Jesus, that cannot be a truth," declared Ian Jackson.

The other issue in this case is related to basic freedom of speech. As they were quoting KJV verses related to homosexuality and Islam, the crowd became abusive, creating a disturbance. When the police moved in, they arrested the preachers instead of the rabble rousers in the crowd.

The peace officers were backed up by the court in their decision to go after the preachers instead of those who actually created the disorder. The constitutions of many countries include freedom of speech, but officials are increasingly removed from the Holocaust, we see a great nation risen from the desert and we see a proud Star of David waving above the State of Israel. That star is a symbol of Jewish perseverance. It's a monument to unyielding strength."

Then he pledged unwavering support to defeat terrorism and "...stamp out prejudice and anti-Semitism everywhere it is found. To all of you tonight, who have come from around the world, let it be known, America stands strong with the State of Israel."

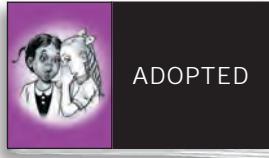

The other "Holocaust" has yet to be fully addressed. Many have marched and pleaded with new mothers not to allow anyone to invade the comfort of their womb and cut into pieces the defenseless child. Can there be any difference between the cruel abortionist who dismembers a quietly thumb-sucking baby and the animal who opened the poison gas valve at Auschwitz? I fear that God sees little difference.

If we deplore the deaths of six million who trusted that they were only going to the showers, can we ignore the innocent blood of over one billion worldwide who rested secure in the comfort of the womb until ripped apart by the killer's bloody tools?

Examples of God's view of babies show up in several places in scripture. When the inhabitants of Canaan began burning their children on the altar to Moloch, God blew the whistle and called Israel out of Egypt to come clear the land. When Jonah pouted because God would not destroy Nineveh, God said that there were 120,000 in Nineveh who did not know their right hand from their left; it is generally assumed that these were children. (See Jonah 4:11.)

Besides abortion, in many ungodly

societies today, children are abused in horrible ways that must grieve God's heart. Much of that abuse is not physical. When a humanist teacher convinces a child that he is a soulless beast based on godless evolution instead of a Creator, can God be any less grieved?

Jesus said "Suffer the little children to come unto me and forbid them not:..." Anything we do that keeps children from coming to know Jesus contradicts this command and we will answer to Jesus for it on judgment day. If we do not object when a school teaches children that Jesus is just another philosopher, God notices. If we allow pagan Hollywood to be our home babysitter, we will give account.

We rejoice that America now stands with Israel. But when will we stand against Satan's wiles that are destroying the next generation?

Many have written Chick Publications that no-nonsense gospel tracts were helpful in shaping their childhood world views. And now they are buying tracts for collateral reading for their youngsters—to read and share with friends.

Dozens of Chick tracts are written in a simple style because Jack Chick cared about children. In fact, only a few are so complex that only adults can relate. The new tract, Adopted, is a gentle approach to abortion. The older ones, Baby Talk and Who Murdered Clarice?, are more to the point and for older teens and adults.

For Israel, the eye-opening book, As America Has Done to Israel, shows the risk of refusing to support God's chosen people.

do so based on his history. We call it reputation. His family, his schooling, his religion, his associates, his employment, maybe his criminal record or military service, all color our trust in him.

But, when it comes to the Bible, we just believe the “scholars” and assume all versions have the same history, the same reputation. Modern research techniques have discovered otherwise.

Hints have been there all along. Do we know why Acts 8:37 is missing in some Bibles? Do we understand the meaning of the footnote about Mark 16:9-20 that it is not included in the “best manuscripts?”

When questioned, we fall back to the excuse: “Well, the scholars must be right.” But then, where is our faith? Do we trust God’s words or the scholars? WARNING: anything that gets our faith away from God’s words has to be from the same creature that tempted Eve.

Don’t we have to ask ourselves: “Is Mark 16:9-20 God’s words or not?” And does that help our faith—or not? So, how do we answer these questions? We must ask: “What is the history, or reputation, of this book labeled ‘HOLY BIBLE?’” And the sly author of doubt has stirred up a lot of smoke and mirrors around the answer.

Basically, there are two streams of history behind the Bibles that we have today. One is a consistent history of reliable people and thousands of accurate copies and translations.

The other is a murky stream of obscure manuscripts promoted by a counterfeit “church.” Characters of suspicious reputation pepper the landscape. Attempts to find a consistent thread of Truth are sabotaged by contradictions and omissions in the few available manuscripts.

Author David W. Daniels has traced these two streams to their source and detailed his research in a series of books and YouTube vlogs. One stream is faithful; the other is doubt-ful. God has preserved His words as Jesus promised in Matt 24:35. Daniels proves which stream you can really trust.

I really love your new tract, Adopted. Years ago, when you came out with the tract, Somebody Loves Me, it was that tract that led my 4 yr. old granddaughter to the Lord.

Chick tracts played an important role in bringing me to Christ through the Holy Spirit bearing witness with the scriptures. The cartoon format is really what got me to read them, as I really didn’t like to read back then. This Was Your Life and the Alberto era, we would not have seen Jesus ascend to heaven. "Heaven isn't up." But Acts 1 says Jesus went up before their eyes, while they watched. But Schaper never let the facts get in the way of his beliefs.

Oh, and one more thing. All the professors here, as far as they have said and I was told, were evolutionists. They thought creation was a fairy tale, and that Genesis chapters 1-11 were just poetry.

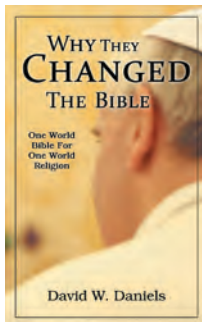

This is who trained thousands of today's pastors and professors when they went to seminary, as I did.

But what about my question? Do they trust anything as the living word of God?

You know what? Not one single professor came to class and snuggled the text of Codex Sinaiticus in his arms and said, "At last! THESE are the words of God!"

Listening to my professors talk was like dissecting dead things. But God's words never died. They are living, preserved in English in the Authorized King James Bible! Its words are "quick"—and they are powerful. They change lives. This Book created the modern missionary movement. This Book was and is the seed of revivals. This Book was the original reason for creating Bible translation groups.

This is not just like any other book. This is God's Book. But these professors treat their own words as if they are more important than God's words.

Preachers Arrested...

siding with those who are "offended" instead of protecting the freedom to preach the gospel.

A side note of the situation was a telling statement by Jackson to the court. He declared that the statements made by the preachers "may have been in the King James Bible, translated in 1611, but that did not mean they were acceptable in 2016."

This trend towards what some have dubbed "mob-ocracy" is part of the setup for the one-world religion for the one-world government. Anyone who goes against the "groupthink" has to be silenced. "Harmony" is the mantra, but harmony on the devil's terms, not Biblical peace. This is a shock because we grew up in one of the few short periods of true freedom in the history of the world.

But, that era is fading fast. America is the last major hold out in the Western World and cracks are showing in the wall. Same-sex marriage lawsuits are costing Christian businesses hundreds of thousands of dollars in fines and court fees. Street preaching is becoming increasingly risky with the gospel declared as "hate speech" by the "mob."

Quality gospel tracts will become increasingly important because of their inconspicuous nature. They can be read in private, and will wait patiently in a desk drawer till a heart is ready. Like salt, they may be small but can change the "flavor" of a whole neighborhood if widely "sprinkled."

Soul winners, will we not be guilty if we waste this special time of freedom to further the Kingdom?

Missions Fund Report

Henk Thomassen —Netherlands: “A few weeks ago there was a new family in our church who told me they would become new members. When I asked them how they found us, they told me they found a Chick tract from us in a supermarket shopping cart and that it was exactly what they were looking for. And that is just one example of all the blessings the Lord is bringing with your tracts!”

Mike and Mary Wallace —Mexico City: “It is exciting as you pass out tracts to look back and see people reading them page by page and knowing they are reading the gospel AND interested in it.

Mexicans love their soccer and people are so drawn to this tract (The Superstar.)

“I was in the equivalent of the vehicle registration department a couple weeks ago. People think bureaucracy is bad in the U.S, but it is much worse here. Wait times are extremely long. When I first sat down, I introduced myself to the man beside me, Alfonso, and I gave him the Chick tract, Esta Fue Tu Vida \(This Was Your Life\). He started reading it as we waited, then I was called to see one of the attendants.

“When I sat back down by Alfonso, he shook my hand with tears in his eyes and said thank you. He said he was Catholic but knew inside he was a bad person. He said when he read the tract, he realized it was true and he prayed to accept Christ as his Savior.

“We have other stories like this but the blessing is knowing Chick Tracts get read, and because of it, people get saved —some immediately and some later. Thank you for helping us reach this needy mission field with the gospel, and in a manner that is so well received.”

Jerry Alford —Venezuela: “The Chick tracts are a key in our church planting efforts. There have been over 10 churches started by your tracts. Now, the churches you have helped us start are starting other churches. There have been 5 second-generation churches started and we have a plan for four more that I will be directly working with.

“Thank you. The people in Venezuela LOVE THE TRACTS AND WILL ASK FOR MORE. This opens the door for more witnessing.”

Note: Alford reports that the food shortage is so severe in Venezuela that he has lost over 40 pounds. A Marxist government has destroyed the economy and inflation is rampant. His church rent increased 600%, forcing them to move. “Yet we are marching forward,” he says.

Joetta Smith —Kenya: “It has been a few days since I went in to replenish the tracts and I was shocked to see how they have gone! Pastor Sablon has come with many pastors and we have had people coming from long distances who have somehow gotten a tract and have called for directions to come here for more...it is just amazing and thrilling to see how these tracts have ‘taken hold’ here and are in such demand.

“People absolutely love them and talk about how much their faith has grown since having them to read and they are eager to give them out. People will just ‘come out of the woodwork’ to ask for them.

“The pastors who come leave with hundreds of tracts and tell us they always run out. Our church members and the children have taken a renewed interest in evangelism as well.

“Sometimes I just want to weep when I see the pastors coming to tell us how they see they have been preaching a wrong gospel and how the tracts, along with our meetings have really helped them to see the truth.

“They are passionate to show people how the Word of God has been so corrupted and they are also passionate to reach the Catholics as there is a VERY large Catholic population here and they are pushing hard to get everyone to go back to the ‘mother’ church.

“The tracts are proving to be such good ‘weapons’ in the hands of these precious pastors. They carry their little boxes of tracts with them when they leave the center as if they are carrying a precious treasure.

“SO, I was so happy to see the big ‘dent’ in our supply here. Word is out that THIS is the place to get the tracts and also as a result we find many are even wanting to have a Bible study before

Freedom Tightening...

terrorists, the Russian Orthodox leaders saw an opportunity to reduce competition. Cults such as the Jehovah’s Witnesses and Mormons were included in the ban, but so were Baptists.

In India, a shift in the politics in recent years has placed the Hindu majority in a position of dominance in the culture. As a result, government officials, including police, are increasingly looking the other way when Hindus attack Christians.

Even Western “democratic” governments like Britain are in a debate over the issue. There, the original policy suggestions were recognized as so broad that they might be used to squelch even beneficial “extremism” (such as soul winning).

Britain already has a mechanism to stifle street evangelism. Michael Stockwell and Michael Overd were recently charged with “intentionally alarming” the public with their open-air preaching. While declaring Biblical statements about the sin of homosexuality and that Muslims would end up in hell, the listeners created a commotion and the pair were arrested.

Threats to religious freedom will increase from many directions in the end times. America has conducted a 200-year experiment in total religious freedom almost unique in the history of the world. But it will be quickly lost if we don’t evangelize our nation. Only when biblical righteousness prevails, does freedom flourish. Persecution is already lifting its ugly head. We will not escape if we become too small a minority.

Satan has created a chaos of competing lies that drowns out the truth, making it possible for only a few to find it.

But, soul winners, if we fret about the big picture, we will miss the very reason we are here: to present Truth to those who have ears to hear. Saturation with gospel tracts that get read is still the best way to find those ready to listen.

Special Missions Fund Report from India

The Chick Missions Fund has worked closely with the Independent Church in India (ICII) for several years, supplying over 700,000 Chick tracts in Hindi, Tamil, Telugu, Punjabi and other local languages.

ICII works quietly at the most grass-roots level. Local Christians are trained as missionaries who visit villages, preaching and sowing gospel literature. When a few people convert, a pastor is trained to disciple them and Bibles and more literature is supplied. The simple gospel in Chick tracts not only wins souls but provides basic training in discipleship.

Persecution is rising rapidly there with elections putting militant Hindus into positions of power. One pastor reported constant death threats. One day, a bulldozer showed up to destroy his house. Another time, while sleeping, a cobra snake was thrown into his room. Snakes were also thrown into his church during worship.

Another pastor reported that he was handing out tracts in a tribal village given over to ancestor worship and blood sacrifices. He found a woman who was dying of kidney failure. About 10 people were gathered "...doing all of their dark rituals over her."

He began sharing the gospel and then asked them to pray with him for the lady's healing. "When we prayed, this woman sat up and started to pray, also. God totally healed her at that moment! She expressed, 'I am feeling very healthy now.'" Doctors later confirmed her total recovery.

Another pastor describes how he visited a village and found an old temple prostitute who had cancer. She was training her 13-year-old granddaughter to replace her. He prayed for healing and shared the gospel. Both accepted Christ. When he returned home he was so burdened for the teenager that he returned and invited her to come live with the pastor.

She is now one of four that the pastor has rescued from the same fate, now living in his church. He learned later that, when the lady went to the doctor, she was completely cancer free.

Another pastor focuses on the stonebreakers who labor in quarries breaking boulders into usable stone. As he approached one day, a young man was standing on a high rock. "I saw him and felt in my heart that something was not right," he said. It turned out that he was planning to jump to his death. After receiving Jesus, he told the pastor: "You just saved me in time."

While one native missionary was preaching at a village, an atheist began heckling him, but he accepted a Bible when the missionary left. Upon a return visit, the man came and admitted that it was now "...very clear to him that God created the world and that he believed in Jesus." After hearing more of the gospel, he accepted Christ and is now regular at church and is "...reading the Bible to many people in the village."

The ICII report cites many other instances where gospel literature and Bibles work a powerful change in people's lives. They are pleading for more literature and Bibles to use in both India and neighboring Pakistan. As of press time, our printers in India are producing 350,000 more tracts for this ministry.

Brothers and Sisters in Christ:

After the flood, God gave Noah and his kids permission to kill and eat animals, and no longer eat only plants (9:3). But He also told them His heart: “Whoso sheddeth man’s blood, by man shall his blood be shed: for in the image of God made he man” (Genesis 9:6).

It is a serious thing to shed innocent blood. In Numbers 35:33, God explained to Moses: “...for blood it defileth the land...” And yet in our land we shed the blood of innocent children inside their mothers every day!

The babies have broken no laws. God wants them to be received with loving arms when they are born. But since Roe v. Wade in 1973, 59.5 million babies have not been allowed to experience life outside the womb.

God hates this! God destroyed nations for shedding much less blood than we have! People in our country, and around the world, need their eyes opened. If they will believe and receive His Son, then the Holy Ghost can open their eyes wide to what they have never seen before.

One way to do this is with a gospel tract. Praise God, some Bible-believing Christians regularly stand in front of abortion clinics, offering salvation and alternatives to the expectant mommies and daddies. Many hand out tracts. Adopted is a gentle tract to offer them. We have many other gospel tracts, as well.

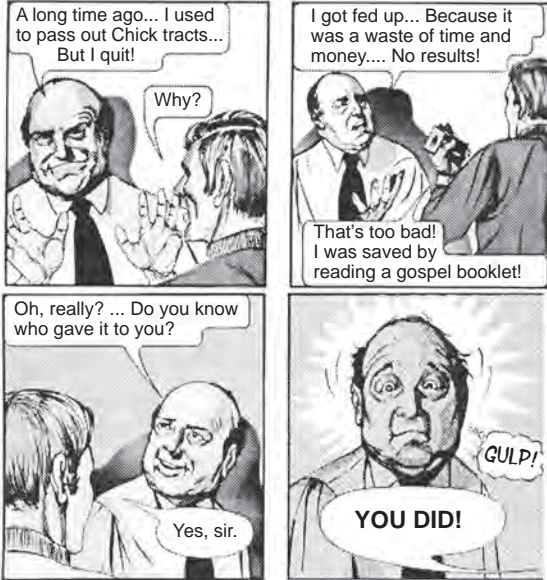

These Christians in the front lines don’t want expectant mothers to be lied to, tricked—or even worse, forced into letting others take the life of their unborn baby. God loves what these Christians are doing. This is a work dear to His heart.

Do you know people on the front lines who need gospel tracts? Could you supply them, or help hand them out? But not just at clinics. God wants us to fill the land with His offer of salvation and life, as well as the value God places on all humans, born and unborn. Gospel tracts that we pass out may help raise awareness and stem the tide of abortion, and may also gain precious souls for Christ.

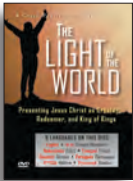

It’s worth the little time it takes to pass out a tract.

Yours for the harvest,

David Daniels
